Thank you for your interest in becoming an ACAD 101 Learning Assistant at Boise State University. Please carefully read the qualifications, time commitment, and application process outlined below.

What is a Learning Assistant (LA)?
LA’s are peer leaders who are matched with a specific section and faculty member to provide academic support to students in ACAD 101. LA’s attend class and regularly to assist the faculty in facilitating classroom activities (group activities, discussions, etc.) and hold 1-2 bilingual study sessions a week outside of class time. The goal of these study sessions is to facilitate students coming to deeper understanding of course concepts and to "learn how to learn" through active learning strategies. LA’s will work closely with instructors to discuss students’ needs and implement strategies to encourage students to attend sessions. LA’s are responsible for maintaining and entering student participation information, and attending staff meetings for ongoing training.
